5                   qualified 2016 disaster distribution, a plan

7                   quirement of this title merely because the 8                   plan treats such distribution as a qualified

1 eligible rollover distribution (as defined in 2 section 402(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue

13 vidual retirement plan (as defined by sec-
14 tion 7701(a)(37) of the Internal Revenue 15 Code of 1986), then, to the extent of the 16 amount of the contribution, the qualified 17 2016 disaster distribution shall be treated 18 as a distribution described in section 19 408(d)(3) of such Code and as having been 20 transferred to the eligible retirement plan 21 in a direct trustee to trustee transfer with-22 in 60 days of the distribution.

13 made after December 31, 2018.

14 (d) NORMALIZATION REQUIREMENTS.—

15 (1) IN GENERAL.—A normalization method of 16 accounting shall not be treated as being used with 17 respect to any public utility property for purposes of 18 section 167 or 168 of the Internal Revenue Code of 19 1986 if the taxpayer, in computing its cost of service 20 for ratemaking purposes and reflecting operating re-21 sults in its regulated books of account, reduces the 22 excess tax reserve more rapidly or to a greater ex-23 tent than such reserve would be reduced under the 24 average rate assumption method.

1           (2) ALTERNATIVE METHOD FOR CERTAIN TAX-
2       PAYERS.—If, as of the first day of the taxable year
3       that includes the date of enactment of this Act—

4           (A) the taxpayer was required by a regu-
5       latory agency to compute depreciation for public 6       utility property on the basis of an average life 7       or composite rate method, and 8           (B) the taxpayer's books and underlying 9       records did not contain the vintage account 10      data necessary to apply the average rate as-11      sumption method,

12      the taxpayer will be treated as using a normalization 13      method of accounting if, with respect to such juris-14      diction, the taxpayer uses the alternative method for 15      public utility property that is subject to the regu-16      latory authority of that jurisdiction.

17           (3) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this sub-18      section—

19           (A) EXCESS TAX RESERVE.—The term 20      “excess tax reserve” means the excess of—

21           (i) the reserve for deferred taxes (as 22      described in section 168(i)(9)(A)(ii) of the 23      Internal Revenue Code of 1986) as deter-24      mined under the Internal Revenue Code of 1           1986 as in effect on the day before the 2           date of the enactment of this Act, over

3           (ii) the amount which would be the 4           balance in such reserve if the amount of 5           such reserve were determined by assuming 6           that the corporate rate reductions provided 7           in this Act were in effect for all prior peri-8           ods.

9           (B) AVERAGE RATE ASSUMPTION METH-10          OD.—The average rate assumption method is 11          the method under which the excess in the re-12          serve for deferred taxes is reduced over the re-13          maining lives of the property as used in its reg-14          ulated books of account which gave rise to the 15          reserve for deferred taxes. Under such method, 16          if timing differences for the property reverse, 17          the amount of the adjustment to the reserve for 18          the deferred taxes is calculated by multi-19          plying—

20               (i) the ratio of the aggregate deferred
21               taxes for the property to the aggregate 22               timing differences for the property as of 23               the beginning of the period in question, by 24               (ii) the amount of the timing dif-
25               ferences which reverse during such period.

1 (C) ALTERNATIVE METHOD.—The “alter-
2 native method” is the method in which the tax-3 payer—

4 (i) computes the excess tax reserve on 5 all public utility property included in the 6 plant account on the basis of the weighted 7 average life or composite rate used to com-
8 pute depreciation for regulatory purposes, 9 and

10 (ii) reduces the excess tax reserve rat-11 ably over the remaining regulatory life of 12 the property.

13 (4) TAX INCREASED FOR NORMALIZATION VIO-
14 LATION.—If, for any taxable year ending after the 15 date of the enactment of this Act, the taxpayer does 16 not use a normalization method of accounting, the 17 taxpayer’s tax for the taxable year shall be increased 18 by the amount by which it reduces its excess tax re-19 serve more rapidly than permitted under a normal-20 ization method of accounting.

3           An entity shall be treated as a specified foreign

7 described in subparagraph (B) if such shareholders 8 were United States shareholders.

9 “(3) POST-1986 EARNINGS AND PROFITS.—The 3                   “(D) 25 percent of the net tax liability in 4                   the case of the 8th such installment.

5                   “(2) DATE FOR PAYMENT OF INSTALLMENTS.—

6                   If an election is made under paragraph (1), the first 7                   installment shall be paid on the due date (deter-8                   mined without regard to any extension of time for 9                   filing the return) for the return of tax for the tax-10                  able year described in subsection (a) and each suc-

14                  the preceding installment was made.

15                  “(3) ACCELERATION OF PAYMENT.—If there is 24                  the day before the petition is filed). The preceding 25                  sentence shall not apply to the sale of substantially

1       all the assets of a taxpayer to a buyer if such buyer 2       enters into an agreement with the Secretary under 3       which such buyer is liable for the remaining install-4       ments due under this subsection in the same manner 5       as if such buyer were the taxpayer.

6           “(4) PRORATION OF DEFICIENCY TO INSTALL-7       MENTS.—If an election is made under paragraph (1) 8       to pay the net tax liability under this section in in-

10      respect to such net tax liability, the deficiency shall 11      be prorated to the installments payable under para-12      graph (1). The part of the deficiency so prorated to 13      any installment the date for payment of which has 14      not arrived shall be collected at the same time as, 15      and as a part of, such installment. The part of the 16      deficiency so prorated to any installment the date 17      for payment of which has arrived shall be paid upon 18      notice and demand from the Secretary. This sub-

15          tax liability under this section with respect to 16          such S corporation as is properly allocable to 22          Secretary under which such transferee is liable 23          for net tax liability with respect to such stock 24          in the same manner as if such transferee were 25          the taxpayer.

1           “(3) NET TAX LIABILITY.—A shareholder’s net

7           cations from such S corporation.

8           “(4) ELECTION TO PAY DEFERRED LIABILITY 9           IN INSTALLMENTS.—In the case of a taxpayer which 10          elects to defer payment under paragraph (1)—

11               “(A) subsection (h) shall be applied sepa-12               rately with respect to the liability to which such 13               election applies,

15               respect to such liability shall be treated as time-16               ly made if made not later than the due date for 17               the return of tax for the taxable year in which 18               the triggering event with respect to such liabil-19               ity occurs,

20               “(C) the first installment under subsection
21               (h) with respect to such liability shall be paid 22               not later than such due date (but determined 23               without regard to any extension of time for fil-24               ing the return), and

1           “(D) if the triggering event with respect to 2           any net tax liability is described in paragraph 3           (2)(A)(ii), an election under subsection (h) with 4           respect to such liability may be made only with 5           the consent of the Secretary.

6           “(5) JOINT AND SEVERAL LIABILITY OF S COR-
7           PORATION.—If any shareholder of an S corporation 8           elects to defer payment under paragraph (1), such 11          additional amount attributable thereto.

12          “(6) EXTENSION OF LIMITATION ON COLLEC-
13          TION.—Any limitation on the time period for the col-14          lection of a liability deferred under this subsection 15          shall not be treated as beginning before the date of 16          the triggering event with respect to such liability.

7           payment of which has been deferred under 8           paragraph (1) and which has not been assessed 9           on a return of tax for any prior taxable year.

10          “(C) FAILURE TO REPORT.—In the case of 11          any failure to report any amount required to be 12          reported under subparagraph (A) with respect 13          to any taxable year before the due date for the 14          return of tax for such taxable year, there shall 15          be assessed on such return as an addition to 16          tax 5 percent of such amount.

17          “(8) ELECTION.—Any election under paragraph 18          (1)—
